Imagine the possibilities at the C3 Centre

A space where key capacity-building organizations in Ottawa are co-locating in one space, the C3 (Connect, Collaborate, Create) Centre is a model for shared space, shared services, social innovation and shared programming. It provides for an enhanced, coordinated and collective response to address the capacity-building needs of the voluntary sector and the wider community.

The C3 Centre helps organizations in Ottawa increase their staff, volunteer and organizational capacity by providing learning resources, programs and tools that might not be available or otherwise affordable to them.

The Centre, which covers over 8,622 sq. ft. at 1155 Lola St., features the following:

- ❖ future incubator space for small or start-up non-profits
